AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

THEY MADE MERRY IN THE MASTER'S ABSENCE. Albert H. Schoudel is the owner and occupant of family went away last week to spend the summer in the country he left the house in charge of dlin Crowley, his colored servant, twenty years old. Ella grew lonely and invited her sister Alice, nineteen years, and Rosa Epp, twenty years, also colored. to stay there temporarily with her. The neighbor-took exceptions to the way the women donducted themselves, and to the noise of the orgies that were kept up in the house at all hours of the night. They sent Mr. Schoudel a communication to this effect and the latter reported the case to Captain Brennan. einet. Policemen Brooks and Rogers were detailed to make an investigation, which resulted in a raid on the premises at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning, when the women were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct, while eight white men who were present as "guests" were also taken in custody and marched to tae Gates-ave, police station. They will all be arraigned before instice Connelly in the Gates Avenue Police Court this morning.

CAUGHT PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY. Four Italians were arraigned yesterday in the Lee Avenue Police Court on the charge of passing coun-terfeit $5 bills on a number of liquor sellers. The risoners were Frank 'Eder, Mott-st., New-York; Armaid Antonia, Carroll-st.; Guiseppe Sirelli and James II. Maunug, No. 96 Bridge-st. The men were arrested after a running fight by Officers Callahan and Hayes, of the United States Secret Service, and Policemen Hayes and Lannigan, of the Sixteenth Precinct, on Saturday night. Callahan and Hayes had followed the men from South Brooklyn and watched them then the Eastern District was reached the men went into the places of James Harrison, Wythe-ave. and Taylor-st., and J. Feldheis, Kent-ave. and Taylor-st., and each of the proprietors changed a bill. fincers then attempted to place them under arrest and a desperate encounter followed. Word was sent to the Sixteenth Precinct and Policemen Hayes and Lannigan were sent to assist the officers. When they appeared a running fight followed and many blows were exchanged. It was not until the officers had used their clubs freely that they were able to put the men under arrest. One of the number escaped. A stiletto was found on Sirelli. The prisoners were remanded for examination.

A MINED ALE PARTY ENDS SERIOUSLY. There was a lively time at No. 200 Franklin-st., Greenpoint, at an early hour yesterday morning, which resulted in one of the combatants having his skull fractured with a beer glass. The building is a tenement-house, and the place of the encounter was in the apartments of Thomas Purcell, who lived with his family on the top floor. John Sullivan also occupies apartments in the house. The Sullivans and the Purcells have not been on friendly Eatly yesterday morning, terms for some time. while the Purcell family was entertaining a num-ber of friends, Sullivan, accompanied by Charles Hinghes, entered. There had been an abundance of mixed ale during the night, and when Sullivan and his companion entered excitement at once followed. Chairs and tables were overturned and blows were exchanged right and left. During the fight James McCaffrey drew a revolver and was about to discharge it when Sullivan, seeing the weepon, knocked it from his hand. Hughes was suddenly floared by a hear of the suddenly floared by th weapon, shocked it from his hand. Highes was suddenly floored by a beer glass and became unconscious. The scressus of the women attracted several policemen, who placed all the combatants under arrest. An ambulance was sent for and removed Highes to the Eastern District Hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured.

HE WAS DRUNK, BUT THOUGHT HE WAS MURDERER.

Policeman Flarsty, of the Fifth Precinct, early yesterday morning arrested Edward Thompson, who said he lived in Palmetto-at., on a charge of in-toxication. When Thompson was arraigned in the Lee Avenue Police Court a few hours later he in a great state of excitement. He had dreamed, during his confinement in the station house that he had committed murder, and believed when he stood before the bar that that was the charge against him. When he was informed that he was arraigned on a charge of intoxication he exclaimed with both hands upraised. "My God; I am again happy!" Then he related his dream. He gave a bond to appear before the masistrate to-day, and as he left the court-room said it was the first time he had been drunk, and it would be the last.

TENANTS RESCUED BY FIREMEN AND THE POLICE.

A few minutes after 2 o'clock yesterday morning Policeman Clinch, of the Fifth Precinct, saw smoke coming from the cellar of the three-story tenement nouse No. 103 Grand-st., and immediately turned in an marm. On the ground floor is a pharmacy, run by Otto Hubertis, while on the upper floors lived several families. After turning in an alarm Clinch ran back to the building, and on opening the front door found the hallway filled with smoke. In the mean time the occupants had been awakened by suffocating sensations and rushed to the stairway. They did not attempt to venture down on account of the smoke, and going back to their apartments called for help from the front windows. The firemen were soon at the place and several of the occupants were carried out through the windows, while others were assisted to the street by the stairs. The fire was kept in the cellar and the damage was slight.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN. Anthony Post, of No. 147 Stagg-st., was arraigned yesterday in the Ewen Street Police Court on a charge of threatening to kill his wife, Katle. Post was arrested on a warrant and held for trial.

Hugh McCabe, of No. 187 Front-st., was bathing esterday at the foot of Jay-st., when he became exbausted and would have drowned but for the timely assistance of several men who were on the pier. was rescued in an unconscious condition, and after ing resuscitated by an ambulance surgeon was taken

Rosa Hughes, employed as a cook at Wilson Horton's restaurant, at No. 389 Flfth-ave., drank beer from a glass that contained a quantity of benzine yesterday, by mistake, and became violently ill. She as attended by an ambulance surgeon and removed to the Norwegian Hospital.

Two-year-old Willie Specker fell from a second-story window of his parents' home, at No. 227 Fulton-st., yesterday, and received injuries that are likely to Beys playing with matches in the one-story frame owned by Peter McCabe, in the rear of No. 185 Richards-st., yesterday morning, started a blaze that caused a damage of $500.

Among the prisoners arraigned yesterday in the ren Street Police Court was Charles H. Seaman, of Mount Vernon. He had been arrested on a warrant charged by Arthur & Randel, dealers in horses and carriages, with failing to pay for a team of horses and road cart which had been purchased for $350.

HE BEAT HIS SON WITH AN IRON BUCKLE.

A BRUTAL FATHER ARRESTED BY AGENTS OF THE GERRY SOCIETY.

A shocking case of brutality was disclosed to Agents Pringle and King, of the Gerry Society, when, on Saturday afternoon, they visited the home of Daniel sullivan, at No. 27 Oak-st. Complaint had just reached them of the horrible beating which had been inflicted upon his ten-year-old son, Cornellus. They found the boy's body one mass of raw flesh, with seventeen distinct marks of a large iron buckle which was attached to the epd of the heavy leather strap used in

The boy was taken to the Gerry Society headquarters in a carriage, and a certificate by Dr. Joseph E. Winter, of No. 36 East Thirty-second-st., stated that he was unable to appear in the Tombs Police Court when Sullivan was arraigned yesterday on a charge of felonious assault.

The father began beating the boy on Friday, and during the afternoon inflicted chastisement every mother, who is a hard-working woman, went home she found the boy with his arms strapped behind him

Sullivan had a kuffe in his hand when Agent King attempted to arrest him. The officer had to knock it out of his hand before he could take him into custody.

Our character at the last moment will be our character through all eternity." Sullivan is thirty-four years old and has been arrested iwice before on charges of cruelly beating his wife. Judge Ryan beld him in $2,000 ball for examination Tuesday.

A MINISTER'S PRAISE OF BOOTH

SERMON OF THE REV. MADISON C. PETERS.

HE PLEADS FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE DEAD TRAGEDIAN'S IDEAS ABOUT

THE STAGE. The Rev. Madison C. Peters, pastor of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church, delivered an address last evening on "The Bible in the Fine Arts," and incidentally paid a warm tribute to the memory of Edwin Booth.
There was also a special musical service, selections from Mendel-soln's Orntorio of "St. Paul" being sung There was also a special musical service, selections from Mendelssohn's Oratorio of "St. Paul" being suns by the choir of the church, assisted by well-known singers, with Mile. Carust as harpist, and Herr Hoff man as violinist. In the course of his address Mr.

Peters said: "Edwin Booth's spotless character and beneficen life largely relieved the stage of the aspersions on the actor's calling which spring from the ignorant preju dice of those who have never seen a good play en Edwin Booth was not only the brightest orna ment of his profession, but he was also an honor to human nature. In all that he did he sought to en noble life by his influence. He will ever be to his profession an example well worthy of imitation. shall never forget the rich pleasure, the intellectual improvement and the strengthened faith in immortality I experienced as he interpreted for me, over and over the grand play of 'Hamlet.' It is to be regretted that so much of the contemporary theatre is worthles and harmful. I would not say that the stage of to-day is devoid of noble impulses and beneficial influences, yet nothing else in Americans shows as much bad taste as their indiscriminate indorsements of plays and players. This was one of the sorrows of Edwin Booth's life, and he at one time sank his private fortune in an attempt to elevate the stage and to create a new and higher public sentiment. "A better class of people attend the theatre now than ever before, and a higher character is manifested in the players, but what of the plays themselves? Are 'Hamlet,' 'Macbeth,' 'King Lear' or 'Richard III' the types which most frequently appear? Look at the placards on the walls for the answer. A Shake-pears and a Booth are not likely to be popular so long as the people throng the theatres to appliand poor pune and silly songs, which the compounders of gayety burlesque provide. The playwrights and the player to-day have the bread and butter instincts, and the write and act to live. They are not to blame for what we too often get on the stage. They know what Booth gave the people what he thought they ought to have. The theatre will never, in tone and tendency, be above the life that attends it. The demand will ontrol the supply. The theatre is here to stay Edwin Booth struck the keynote of the future

That note was 'Reform.' Eliminate the bad and en-courage the good, and, when the spirit of Edwin Booth s infused into the life of the actors, the church will join hands with the theatre and work with it for the uplifting of mankind. Religious opinion is bridging over the scandalous chasm which has so long existed between church and stage. As an ethical question most persons have agreed that amusements, in the abstract, are not wrong. Old and young alike must have their times of sport. The wisest of us can some times afford to by aside our dignity and become a children, but if, on the other hand, we make life al sunshine and sport continually, as did the insects of lying groaning in a sleeping-room. She unloosed that it was the author himself who was the most him whereupon the father selzed him and threw him loudly tissing his own play. So, if at the list we across the room, cutting his head and bruising his are compelled to look back upon a wasted life, we
